KNOX MEASURE CALLED DICTATORIAL

REWARD SPURS HUNT FOR CULPRIT

SCORES OF PERSONS FROM MANY PLACES SEEK MAN WHO INJURED CAPELLE.

SHERIFF GETS SLIGHT CLEW

Rockford Officers Believe That Occupants of Car Might Be From Illinois City.

Scores of persons, including police officers of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois are extending every effort possible to apprehend the man who threw the beer bottle through the windshield of the car driven by F. A. Capelle on the Afton road Tuesday night.

A reward of $255, contributed by local business houses and industrial plants, has been offered for the apprehension and conviction of the man who hurled the bottle. Several clews are being run down by the police of several towns and private citizens and it is thought that the guilty party will be brought to justice in a few days.

Sheriff Fred Beley said today that he would continue to hunt for the man and would not be satisfied until he was captured. The hunt has been brought to the people of Rock county to a realization of what motorists driving on the county roads confront.

Sheriff Beley asserted that if he had been notified immediately of the affair that he could have notified the Beloit police and their motorcycle policeman would have had time to guard the entrance of Beloit on the Afton road. Entrance of Beloit on the Afton road is also interested in the case. He made a personal visit of all the towns and villages yesterday in search of information regarding the men.

Could Not Enter Saloon. Sheriff Beley said that the man who operated the saloon at Rockford with the four men driving the Ford car with the top down, attempted to get into his place about one o'clock Wednesday morning. When they failed in their efforts they left, headed toward Beloit.

Rockford officers are also interested in it is thought that the car may have been from the Illinois city. Sheriff Beley made a complete report of the affair to the Rockford police this morning. He had previously asked them to assist in the search for the men.

An opportunity is given the people, not only of Janesville, but of Rock county, to subscribe for the fund being raised as a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the man who hurled the bottle. The fund may be used to help in making the county highways safe for travel.

BRAINS OF ALLEGED ARSON BAND IS HELD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, June 19.—Anthony Knuckel, said by the police to be the brains of a new arson band, was arrested today. Four persons are alleged to be members of the band. Operations of these persons are said to have netted them $500,000 in Chicago alone, while their work in 26 Illinois cities and in Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin is being followed by the state police.

MOHAMMEDANS TO RENOUNCE TURKEY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Saloniki, Wednesday, June 18.—Numbers of Mohammedans living in Greek Macedonia have appeared before the authorities and expressed their intention of renouncing allegiance to Turkey and taking the oath of loyalty to Greece. The commander of a Greek battalion guarding the railroad passing through Thessaloniki reports that he has received requests from 12 Mohammedans asking to be placed under the Greek administration.

VILLA FIRES SEEN; ALL QUIET, IS REPORT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Fabens, Tex., June 19.—Reports from the American outpost here today said everything was quiet along the line and no Villa activities had been noticed on "The Island" or near Guadalupe where 70 Villa men were seen late yesterday. The men were sighted in the hills and could be seen all night and American patrols watched the border closely to prevent a raid into the United States by the rebels.

WINNIPEG STRIKE CHIEFS ON TRIAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

It was announced this afternoon that a special board of inquiry, under the federal immigration act, will preside. The domination prisoners are being asked that the prisoners be deported.

THE MAYOR'S STATEMENT

Mayor Welsh gave the following statement to the public through the Gazette.

To the Public:—
"I think the time has come when I should make a statement of a few facts that are unknown to the general public. In order to do this I must go back a number of months to the time that Federal Government made an investigation at Mayor Valentine's request, and made a large number of arrests in Janesville for illegal traffic in liquor.

"All persons that were arrested were found guilty, and Mr. Parker at the head of the Secret Service Department in this District, made a report to the council, and Mayor Valentine of his activities. For nearly an hour we listened to the most humiliating report that any body of men that represented the Public were ever forced to hear. At the end Mr. Parker said that he or his assistants would answer any questions that were asked. Only one question was asked, 'who is responsible for these conditions?' The answer was, 'Your Police, Nobody but Your Police.' 'They Know, They Do Know, They Must Know.'"

"Mr. Parker asked for the co-operation of the Council in cleaning up the conditions that existed, and it was unanimously given. The members of the Council decided that the report would not be given to the public as they did not intend to be a party to any further scandal or air any dirty linen as the Gazette has asked for. They decided to lay it away without any airing. The police were assailed by no less a personage than the U. S. Government and they did not complain. Within the last three weeks more arrests were made by the department of justice and at their trial Mr. Parker took another slam at the police as was reported in the daily paper, and said that the commander at Camp Grant would not grant any more leave of absence for week ends, to Janesville until the conditions were cleaned up. This is a second indictment of the gentlemen that say they were slandered by Mr. Kennedy. Up to date I have not heard of their going after Mr. Parker to make him prove his assertions. He has amply proved his case.

"The Gazette took a slam at the council for not referring to the resignation of the police at their last council meeting. There were ten men present who heard Mr. Parker's report and who pledged themselves to do their utmost to clean up Janesville, and I know every one has faithfully worked to that end. I do not know why no one of them took up the matter, unless they all thought as I do, that it was not up to them until the fire and police commission had acted. I know that there was nothing to prevent any member asking for information, had he seen fit.

"Now let us get down to known facts, five members of the police force made a demand on the fire and police commission that they get together on nine hours notice and grant several things. First that their salaries be raised after the council had laid the matter over. These commissioners were scattered all over the city and it would have been impossible, had the commission so wished, to hold a legal meeting, as two days notice is required under the law to every commission. Second, that the two commissioners resign. Third, that better hours be granted.

"They never have made a request to the commissioners or the council for any better conditions. The hours of service are regulated by the Chief. Fourth, that Mr. Gower be made permanent chief. They apparently wanted to constitute themselves council and police commission as well. The whole proposition is so utterly absurd on its face, that I don't see how any intelligent citizen can for a moment waste any time on it.

"I have gone into the matter with several men who know and when those men resigned in writing and signed their resignation, laid down their star, they are out of the Janesville police force and have absolutely no rights left. All that is necessary is for the commission to meet legally and accept their resignations, hold examinations, and fill their places. There has been a lot of things done by the handling of the Police affairs that I find are not legal. During my absence at Lancaster, Penn., to the National Tobacco Dealers' convention, Chief Gower asked Mr. Dulin, who was acting mayor, to sign an application of a Mr. Griffin, of Milwaukee for a police position, said he knew him and he was alright. Griffin was put to work. Inside of forty-eight hours he drew a gun on a respectable citizen and shoved it against his stomach and defied any one in sight. 'He was discharged (VERY PROPERLY) but the whole matter was illegal. There was no examination held, nor could he be discharged without being brought before the commission. Another man a Mr. Briggs was hired by Chief Gower, without going before the commissioners. He lasted one week or thereabout. One Sunday night he went to South Janesville, got drunk, so I am told, made a rough house and surely merited discharge, if true. Mr. Nowlan and Mr. Kennedy saw Mr. Gower, (I have not Mr. Nowlan's word for this) on two separate evenings. Mr. Nowlan says he told Mr. Gower that Briggs ought to be discharged. Mr. Gower did so and properly too, although the proper legal procedure was not followed. Formal charges should have been made before the commission.

"Ever since then Mr. Gower has been telling that Mr. Kennedy said Briggs was a drunken bum and that if he put a man to work Kennedy would say that he was a drunken bum and to discharge him. This is no hear-say. He told me this last week on Monday. "On Monday the 8th, in the afternoon, two different young men asked me if I wanted any more extra policemen for carnival week. I referred them to Mr. Gower. They afterward told me that Gower said that if he hired any one Kennedy would say that they were drunken bums and to fire them. On Tuesday the same thing happened again. I want to say that if Kennedy had told Gower to discharge Briggs, he should have asked him (Kennedy) to prepay charges. As he did not do so that should have ended the matter.

"While these young men were on the police force they had a right if they thought they were being maligned by any member of the commission to prefer charges against that member and were entitled to an investigation without jeopardizing their rights as policemen. They did not do this and the whole business is part of a plan by these men to discredit the whole administration.

"The fact of the matter is certain parties in Janesville are making statements that Mr. Kennedy has talked about them in their business and about city affairs to their detriment. Up to the present time no responsible parties that are entitled to consideration have made any charges in writing against Mr. Kennedy.

"Now I want to state emphatically that I am nobody's man and I will cause an investigation of any charge made by any responsible party, that can be held responsible for their acts. Mr. Kennedy is a good citizen and very loyal to Janesville, and always ready to do his full share in civic matters. He may, or may not have said the things about the Police. I am not hired by the city.

LODGE ASKS U.S. TOWARD OFF REDS

SENATOR SPEAKS AT HARVARD ON DANGERS OF BOLSHEVISM.

POINTS LESSONS FOR AMERICANS

Destruction of Germany's War Power Is Guarantee Of Peace.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cambridge, Mass., June 19.—Lessons for America in Germany's military aggression following years of effort toward world peace and in Russia's bolshevik rule were emphasized in an address today by Senator Lodge at the commencement exercises of Harvard university.

Destruction of Germany's war power, Senator Lodge declared, is the best guarantee of world peace. Misery wrought bolshevism in Russia, he asserted, proves that reforms must come slowly, by evolution and that present conditions may be endangered, by striving for a glittering impossibility.

Discusses German Course. In discussing peace efforts and Germany's course, he said:

"At the close of the last century there was a quite general belief that serious wars would not come again. Suddenly the great war came. Germany esteemed by all as a highly civilized nation, entered deliberately upon a course of savage cruelty, worse than any ever imagined, because it was carefully organized. The world had known barbarism before, but never had anything fallen upon men comparable to the scientific, wholesale atrocities carried on by Germany, by which it merely individuals, but entire communities were subjected to the most hideous sufferings and the most utter ruin which highly trained, modern 'civilized' humanity could devise.

"Beautiful Scheme Weak." "The beautiful scheme of making mankind suddenly virtuous by a statute or a written convention was once more exhibited here in the case of the League of Nations. It is a melancholy reflection that the best assurance of the future peace of the world lies in the destruction of the German war power, which is worth all the rest."

Once again comes the harsh lesson that all the advances of man in morals and in altruism in charity and gentler manners and pure laws, all that really remain to us, comes slowly, never in a moment.

Bolshevism Is Warning. Russian bolshevism, Mr. Lodge said, presents a warning to America in its 'awful results of a scheme which its authors pretended and their object was to make all men happy in a moment.'

"A lesson of fire," said Mr. Lodge, "this Russian scene says to us this way: 'Do not let the United States tell us tomorrow that the country for which this younger generation has died is still the best hope for mankind and that it must be preserved as their fathers preserved and saved it in the days that are gone? Americans first, Americans last, and Americans always. From that firm foundation you can build the new world. The burden came as when the civilization of Rome crashed down in irremediable ruin.'"

King, Queen, At Station. The night train from Paris ended at Adinkerke, just across the Franco-Belgian frontier, where King Albert, Queen Elizabeth, and a party of Belgian officers waited to receive the president. The Americans had breakfast on their train.

King Albert wore his officer's suit of khaki, in which Americans in Paris have come to know him better than in any other dress. Queen Elizabeth wore a simple white dress, with a dark blue mottled coat. Beneath the president's long duster, he wore a frock coat and during the trip he wore a golfing cap. Mrs. Wilson was dressed in dark blue, with a silk autoing coat. Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, accompanied the king and queen and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson throughout the trip and explained conditions along the way.

No Ceremonies. There were no ceremonies on the train other than the ordinary greetings and introductions. Through the little station building, which had been elaborately decorated, the party moved to a long line of cars and began its trip into Brussels, and, as yet, abandoned country.

From time to time the cavalcade halted to permit the visitors to study at close range some fortification or some piece of destruction that was unusually thorough. Neufport was the first halt. The only houses that were intact or even habitable were one or two farm shacks, which were erected for the entertainment of the tourists.

Examining Trenches. From Neufport eastward along the old line of trenches of Dixmude, where the lines at one time almost touched each other, the party alighted to examine the nature of the trench, which went on toward Ypres. All that part of the ride was in an almost deserted country. There were very few refugees and there could be seen little toward reclaiming the territory.

It was like a dead country. Here and there a civilian was encountered but always his face expressed seeming hopelessness. Ypres, however, showed a somewhat greater display of animation. Notwithstanding the terrible destruction wrought there, a few former residents have found their way back, and a dozen or more frame buildings have been erected to serve as hotels, restaurants, drinking places and small shops. They reflect the only industry in the place, catering to tourists, both official and unofficial.

A semblance of civil government has been restored in this district, and the

Royalty Escorts Wilsons Over Devastated Belgium

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Brussels, Wednesday, June 19.—President and Mrs. Wilson, with King Albert and Queen Elizabeth as their guides, today saw the devastation, piled upon Belgium by the German forces, in the afternoon almost no residents were encountered. In the afternoon the appearance of the president at Ypres, Ostend, Zeebrugge, and Antwerp was made the occasion of demonstrations. With the president and Mrs. Wilson were Miss Margaret Wilson, B. M. Haruch, Norman Davis, Gen. W. W. Harris, Herbert Hoover, chairman of the U. S. food commission, and Commander Baker.

The night train from Paris ended at Adinkerke, just across the Franco-Belgian frontier, where King Albert, Queen Elizabeth, and a party of Belgian officers waited to receive the president. LEAGUE BILL SAID TO BE IMPROPER

SENATOR THOMAS OPPOSES MEASURE TO SEPARATE ISSUES.

MONROE DOCTRINE STANDS—SPENCER

Tariff, Immigration, Such To Be Questions Of Individual Countries.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, June 19.—Adoption of the Knox resolution regarding the league of nations and the peace treaty would be interpreted as an uncalled for effort by the senate to dictate to the peace conference, Senator Thomas, democrat, Colorado, said today, in opposing the measure. The Colorado senator declared the proposal that the senate declares itself now against accepting the league as entwined with the peace terms was improper and unwelcome.

Before Senator Thomas spoke, Senator Spencer, republican of Missouri, introduced a resolution proposing that the senate declare that under any league plan adopted, application of the Monroe doctrine must be reserved entirely for national demonstration. The resolution went over without action.

Spencer Gives Resolution. The Spencer resolution would declare the Monroe doctrine "an essential national policy, and that the necessity and extent of its application and enforcement are matters to be determined alone by the United States."

The tariff, immigration and like internal questions would be declared "matters to be determined entirely by the country in which they arise and under no circumstances, questions for settlement under the league of nations."

The resolution would declare also, "that the United States cannot bind itself in advance to either make war in the future or to send its army and navy into other hands for purposes of control."

Thomas Opposes Address. Senator Thomas in opening his address on the Knox resolution declared the measure raised fundamental questions regarding the power of the senate in treaty making and also of expediency of an expression by the senate.

"I believe it is not only improper for the senate to adopt or reject," he said, "but it is also unwise, at this time to go on record regarding it. As a part of the treaty-making power, we should not attempt at this time to advise the peace conference. Neither of our own views concerning its work or as to what the treaty should contain."

Clashes Round Knox. Replying to Senator Knox's charges that the democrats had made the league a partisan issue, Senator Thomas cited the round robin of the last session against the Knox resolution. He said, "The democrats," he continued, "have reorganized the senate. They have thoroughly reorganized the committee on foreign relations. It is an open secret that no new senators except enemies of the league of nations were eligible to membership on that committee."

Senator Pomerehne, Ohio, a democrat member of the committee, interrupted to remark that the republicans also reorganized the committee. He gave himself a majority of three on the committee, and Senator Williams, democrat of Mississippi challenged any republican senator to deny that the committee had been "stacked against the league."

Challenge Starts Clash. The challenge started a partisan clash so heated that Vice President Marshall repeated the charge that senators against breaking the rules. Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, a new republican member of the committee said his selection to membership had been only in the sense that he is a democrat and I am a republican. "No," shouted Senator Williams, "you have shocked the senate against the hope of world peace as well as against a democratic president. You have left on it only one republican favoring the league, Mr. McCormick, of North Dakota, and the reason you left him was because you did not dare take him in."

Senator McCormick, republican, Illinois, declared it might also be said that "the peace commission to Paris was stacked with democrats ready to bow to the will of the chief executive."

Senator Williams replied that the Paris conference at least had done its work while the republican senators through the Knox resolution were "asking for time to think, if you had any capacity to think at all you'd have thought long ago."

DAYLIGHT SAVING BILL IS REPEALED

Washington, Wednesday June 19.—In response to the demands from rural sections, both the senate and the house today voted to repeal the daylight saving law.

The senate adopted the repeal by a vote of 55 to 6; the house by a vote of 233 to 122. As adopted by the senate the repeal takes effect Oct. 28, as adopted by the house it becomes effective Oct. 30. A conference between the two houses probably will be necessary to adjust this difference of time.

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin offered the repeal in the senate. Senator Williams of Mississippi protested vehemently against the action. He was growing "fired," he said, of the senate's constant usurpations.

NO CHANCE FOR BOOZE SEN. LENROOT SAYS

Senator Irvin L. Lenroot and Congressman Clifford E. Randall, in letters to Rock county friends, assert that they are unable to find the slightest indication that congress will adopt President Wilson's recommendation for the repeal or modification of the war-time prohibition act.

Both of the Wisconsin law-makers declare emphatically that the emergency prohibition measure will not only stand on the books, but it will be given teeth by legislation providing for its rigid enforcement.

Mr. Lenroot in writing of the situation said, "In my judgment there is no possibility of congress adopting President Wilson's recommendation for the repeal of the dry bill."

Mr. Randall also asserts that he is sure that the present congress will uphold the amendment.

TOUGH GUY AROUSES IRE OF MAXFIELD

Three men, all who claimed to be of the hobo type, pleaded not guilty to charges of intoxication when arraigned before Judge H. L. Maxfield in the municipal court this morning. Later the three men were convicted on the evidence of Police Sergeant Jones.

John Ryan, resembling one of those tough guys you see in the movies, was the first on to face Maxfield. Ryan refused to be subdued and for a few minutes he stood on the threshold of going to jail for contempt of court. He was fined $25 and costs or 30 days.

Herman Latvire and James Fitzgerald were the other two men who didn't think they were drunk. They were each assessed $25 and costs or 30 days.

PEACE—and—WAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] German feeling toward the peace treaty appears to be taking a more favorable trend. Although the peace delegation headed by Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau is represented as decidedly opposed to acceptance of the revised allied terms, the latest dispatches from Weimar where the German cabinet and national assembly are considering the treaty reflect a different viewpoint.

The Majority socialists, the present dominant political force in the German republic, are declared in these dispatches to be more favorably inclined toward the treaty than at first, while the clericals and the democrats of the left wing are reported to be swinging in the same direction. One report from Berlin, represents the people of the capital as resigned to the future, desiring only to see the treaty signed and the suspense ended.

In the meantime, however, rumors of an exciting nature are printed in the British grand fleet is prepared to sail on short notice for German waters, and that British dirigibles are already in the German coast, if not over German soil.

The dirigible R-34, which the British were intending to send out on a trans-Atlantic voyage into this week, is said to be over the coast of the Baltic, armed with bombs and machine guns and ready for action. Her sister craft, the R-33, is reported to have left last night, on a cruise which will include the Baltic coast.

One thing definitely known is that the R-34 will not start on her projected trip for America until the German situation is cleared up.

Only minor affairs are being taken by the officials of the peace conference in the absence of President Wilson in Belgium. Efforts are being made to adjust the railway communications between France and Trieste and Vienna to the satisfaction of Italy, Jugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

The problem seems quite difficult and may be left over to be considered by the league of nations.

The attempt on the part of the spartan and communist adherents to stir up riotous conditions at Weimar, seems to have been definitely defeated, as no disorders there have been reported since Wednesday morning's futile attempt to break into the castle where the cabinet members are quartered.

Work is being rushed at the First ward beach and everything will be ready in a few days. A chute is to be erected and the paths to the beach repaired. Hundreds of persons were at the beach last night and the larger crowds are expected when the beach is officially opened.

Wife Deserter Is Taken by Police

Charles Poucher was arraigned before Judge H. L. Maxfield on a charge of wife desertion. He made no attempt to deny the charge and frankly admitted that he had failed to provide for his wife.

When asked if he wished to waive his examination he answered in the affirmative and later admitted that he did not know what an examination was. His plea of guilty was accepted and Judge Maxfield deferred passing sentence until June 24 at 10 o'clock.

WHITEWATER CLASS IS GRADUATED

Whitewater, June 19.—The commencement exercises of the high school were held at the Congregational church last evening. The address to the class was given by T. W. Gallows. The subject, "Quickness in Respect to Character."

He spoke in part as follows: "Anybody who wants to get out of the quick. The 'get rich quick,' 'the get wise quick,' 'the get good quick' people are all quacks. Religion is no short cut to character."

But it is not inherited like the size of your feet, or color of hair; it is a personal achievement. When we take a tumble, the test is whether we get up, and keep on going.

The following were necessary for character: power of concentration, appreciation, discrimination, honesty, truthfulness, unselfishness, and a sense of humor. You must have the kind of character that when the spiritual cyclones come you can still manage the machine, and not be driven by external events or circumstances. A sense of humor is next in importance to religion."

Music was under the direction of Miss Elyda Main, and was furnished by the second grades, and high school. The following were the members of the school board, presented diplomas to the following, Leo Berg, Eleanor Coleman, Dorothy Cushman, Floyd Hill, Ethel Henderson, Lawrence Kellogg, Leslie McCutchan, Kooppe, Evelyn McCord, Doris Miller, Iva Nelson, Hazel Peterson, Ruth Peterson, Etna Stuckerson, Erwin Schimmler, Elmer Stockard, Gertrude Witte, and Elmer Stockard.

Mrs. Josephine Quinn Peterson and daughter of Chicago are visiting Miss Joanna Kelley.

Thane, the blackman, Lawrence Kiser, Donald Howard, Donald West, Wilbur Hurd, and Theodore Gray, left yesterday for the Y. M. C. A. camp at Phantom Lake, where they will spend several weeks.

Lieut. Henry Fuller is home from the Chicago hospital.

SOLDIERS SECURE TRAVEL ALLOWANCE

The director of finance is now settling additional travel allowance due enlisted men of the army, who have been honorably discharged since Nov. 11, 1918, at the rate of 5 cents per mile to home or residence, or place of service, en route to the service, at the option of the soldier.

The comptroller of the treasury has been authorized to make settlements of a claim for the one and one-half cent difference from place of discharge to place of entry into the military service, also the claims for additional allowance for travel from home or residence at date of discharge when such bona fide home or residence can be determined from the affidavit of the soldier and verified by information contained in his original service record.

The zone finance officer, Washington, D. C., has been designated to settle these claims.

A large number of discharged soldiers are taking advantage of this provision, which is being made by the government. CRITICISES ARMY INTELLIGENCE BUREAU

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Washington, Wednesday, June 13.—Criticism of the army intelligence bureau by Representative Johnson, republican of South Dakota, who served with the A. E. F., was made today by Representative Johnson, a former sergeant in the army, and president of the American Military Reform association, had been "summarily arrested, searched and his private papers confiscated" recently by intelligence officers while he was in Germany.

Representative Johnson complained that Hugh Jeffries, Danbury, Wisconsin, a former sergeant in the army, and president of the American Military Reform association, had been "summarily arrested, searched and his private papers confiscated" recently by intelligence officers while he was in Germany.

The speaker presented a letter from Jeffries saying the officers at Camp Devens had told him such literature was demoralizing to the soldiers and would tend to weaken the morale of the army and incite trouble.

RED CROSS TO AID CITY HEALTH MOVE

A meeting of the directors of the Jamesville branch of American Red Cross was held yesterday at the post-office for the purpose of coming to a decision of co-operation with different agencies in regard to the city public health question.

Plans were given by Miss Marie Beatrice Gannon, of the nursery department of central division, Chicago, and Miss Lillian B. Stiff, of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association.

It was decided to appoint a committee on nursing activities, and the Red Cross will probably employ a trained nurse to be financed by the Jamesville branch.

Railroad Claim Dept. Speeds Up on Back Work

Local shippers who may have placed claims against the railroad administration may be interested to know that the claim department is making rapid progress in disposing of them with the return of old help.

The department was greatly crippled during the war when most of the young men entered service.

Alexander Jacobson, secretary of the commercial division of the Chamber of Commerce, received a list of statistics today showing advances which have been made in the past four months.

Claims on hand February 1 were 150,019; March 1, 135,145; April 1, 124,792; May 1, 113,432.

CITY INTERURBAN FARES NOW 6 CENTS

Interurban fares within the city of Jamesville will hereafter be 6 cents instead of 5 cents, the application of the Rockford & Interurban Co. for an increase having been granted by the railroad commission at Madison.

The commission took into consideration the effect of the present system of fares on the interurban naturally had on the Jamesville Traction Co., which charges 6 cents and figured that a continuation under the old method would mean a loss to both companies.

The hearing on the increased rates was held at Madison, Feb. 24. W. H. Dougherty appearing for the company and C. J. Rogers, G. Cunningham for the city.

"Even with a 7 cent fare and no decrease in the number of passengers carried the Jamesville Traction company could not be expected to meet its operating and fixed charges," the commission ruled in declaring a difference in fares would be discriminatory.

SOUTHERN BANKER TELLS OF CONDITIONS

George R. James, banker, manufacturer and wholesaler at Memphis, Tenn., gave an interesting talk before the members of the Rotary club and some 30 invited guests at the Myers hotel today.

Mr. James explained the manner in which the South was being changed from a one crop country to a diversified farming community through education, and the development of rural boys, girls and young men.

He described the southern pig clubs with 9,000 boys members who deposited in a year two and a half million dollars, and not one was a failure.

He gave many facts concerning the community building which kept his audience at close attention. Mr. James was the guest of J. A. Craig, secretary of the National Vehicle association, also E. W. McQuilley, Chicago, secretary of the National Vehicle association.

Mr. McCulloch gave a review of the work of his organization.

BUTCHERS WILL GET WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY

All meat markets in the city will be closed every Wednesday afternoon from June 25 and continuing until the last Wednesday in August, allowing both men and women employees, as well as employees, a weekly half holiday similar to that now given on Wednesdays by the bank and grocery store employees.

Alexander Jacobson, secretary of the commercial division of the Chamber of Commerce, made a personal canvass of all butcher shops yesterday and found good will and harmony prevailing among employers and employees.

"That's the only worth-while spirit that will make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before," said Mr. Jacobson today. "Let's hope that that spirit can be maintained in all efforts."

Hungry Germans Dived Into Garbage and Ate The Raw Flour

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Portland, Ore., June 18.—Diving into garbage barrels and scraping dirty flour from the deck of a ship is the length to which starving Germans went when the steamer Westau sank off the coast of Hamburg recently. This is the word brought here by Prescott Sawyer, professional mariner and expert yachtsman of the Pacific coast, navigating officer of the Westau, yesterday.

The vessels carried 7,000 tons of flour for the Poles. They went to Falmouth, England, thence to Plymouth and were proceeding to Dover when orders were wireless to them to put in at Hamburg instead because of fighting at Danzig.

"The Germans at Hamburg had figured to the last teaspoonful of the much needed flour," Sawyer said. "They were a mighty disappointed lot when they learned we were sending it down the Elbe to the Czechs."

"Our ship was the first of the United States Shipping board vessels to enter Hamburg since the war started. Women came aboard offering money, food and clothing for flour and bacon. Children from 5 to 10 years of age swarmed the decks like white rats, scraping the flour from beneath the feet and eating it."

Sawyer said that more than 250 of them aboard. They dived into the garbage barrels to get anything edible at all."

WOOD URGES DOING RIGHT THING FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Philadelphia, June 19.—"Our men fought with splendid courage. They lived up to the highest traditions of our military duty gained the admiration of Europe. They never failed. They always took their objective. Their courage was resistless."

Thus spoke Major General Leonard Wood today at the commencement exercises of the University of Pennsylvania.

General Wood urged that this country must do the right thing by the returning soldiers. "If we do," he declared, "we shall have in the home of each one of them a center of patriotism and a spirit of service which will go far to keep alive a sound patriotic spirit. A great part of the world is much upset, and dangerous ideas are abroad. We want to keep our feet on the ground and hold on to the ideals and policies which have made us great. We must do all we can to build up a sound national spirit, and intense spirit of Americanism."

He must do all we can in this period of readjustment to maintain the best possible relations between labor and capital, for they are interdependent. United front, every day of having but one language in our grade public schools, and that language should be the language of the Declaration of Independence, the constitution of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Cleveland and Roosevelt."

"There is room in this country for but one flag, and that is the American flag. Put down the red flag. It is a flag for nothing for which our government stands. It is against everything we have struggled for. The experience of the training camps brought out forcibly the desirability of having but one language in our grade public schools, and that language should be the language of the Declaration of Independence, the constitution of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Cleveland and Roosevelt."

Wants Long Term for Client for Drug Cure

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Knoxville, Tenn., June 19.—That his client be given a long term in the penitentiary for nothing for which our government stands. It is against everything we have struggled for. The experience of the training camps brought out forcibly the desirability of having but one language in our grade public schools, and that language should be the language of the Declaration of Independence, the constitution of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Cleveland and Roosevelt."

to do detective work. I will investigate Mr. Kennedy, just as quick the charges must be backed up in writing by some one who is responsible to Mr. Kennedy, if they fail to prove their charges. No ex-freeman or disgruntled ex-policeman will be accepted. They can make charges before the board. The employees of the city in the city hall are working day and night in order to meet the conditions that are confronting Jamesville. The council has labored faithfully and if the citizens will only look around they will see for themselves. Never since I can remember have any water mains been laid in March. Since April first three hundred or more feet a day have been laid by the water department. The Jackson street bridge was started on time, April 15th, and every activity of the city is on time except the street work. Our streets are cleaned for the first time in our history and at the next regular meeting of the street program for next year will be laid out, and during the winter, the engineering department will make assessments and perform all the legal work, have the contract let for an early start next year. Every activity of the city is going on swimmingly; and I am well satisfied. I do not propose to get into any further controversy over city affairs. I say once more, let results speak for themselves.

"Now these men and their friends have been threatening all kinds of dire things against the city. They say they will show the city hall up. The members of the council are all respectable men. They pay their honest debts and have worked faithfully for Jamesville. They are not crooks nor politicians. No man lives who can say they will profit as much as one cent for any activity of the city. Now let us have done with this petty political stuff, at least until next spring election.

"I received a telephone call at Milwaukee yesterday, while on my way to attend the Elk's convention. I immediately returned and will stay in the city until the police situation is settled. The city attorney advised me that I have the right to appoint policemen as specials, until the next regular council meeting. I will do this at once. When Mr. Nowland sent men to Mr. Gower, to be appointed, he said he had all the men he wanted. I sent one to Mr. Nowland Tuesday and he sent him to Mr. Gower. He afterward reported to me that Gower said he would not appoint any one until he had got his men back. Now Gower denies that he said any thing of the kind. Every where I turn I am told that the things the other fellow says were lies. Again I say I will cause to be investigated any charge in writing, signed by any responsible citizen. Now the trouble is that everybody takes themselves too seriously. The old town will go on if I and the entire police force and council as well, should drop out of sight. The police commission will have a meeting as soon as they can legally do so and until they act I have nothing further to say.

"The Chicago paper takes up the matter of the assault on Mr. Capelle, and gives the impression that the Jamesville police or lack of police are responsible. I am extremely sorry for Mr. Capelle, as I consider him one of Jamesville's best citizens and my personal friend. I do not see how Jamesville can be in any way responsible in this matter or why it should be brought into this matter except for effect.

"There will be no more slipshod methods in hiring and discharging policemen and the conduct of the department will be made under the law and through the proper legal channels. It will be in the records and we will not have to depend upon unauthorized rumors."

T. E. Welsh.

POSTAL RECEIPTS MAY DROP AFTER JULY 1

With their return to the old two-cent postage July 1, will local postoffice receipts drop off so that the 1919 total will be less than last year's?

This is a matter of conjecture at the present time. Although it is causing Postmaster J. J. Cunningham no particular worry he is interested to see if the volume of mail will increase enough after the first of next month to maintain the high money mark of last year when the three-cent rate was in effect.

Stationary stores will doubtless notice a decrease in their sales of purple ink to women after July 1. It is a question whether some of them will bring red ink to match the two-cent stickers which soon will be in vogue throughout the country.

HOSPITAL ADDITION CONTRACT AWARDED

Ford, Boos & Schoof were today awarded the contract for building the new three-story addition to Mercy hospital after directors had considered all other bids submitted.

The contracting firm plans to begin excavation immediately and speed the work along so the building may be ready for use by winter.

MOELK BACK TO RUN MAJESTIC THEATRE

Mr. Moelk has had a wide experience in the movie business, having charge of the theaters in Stoughton and Madison. Plans are being made to have changes in the interior decoration and operating booth, and only first class pictures will be shown at this theater.

eighty of labor and the triumph of President Wilson's principles."

The address recalls the intervention of the United States in the war and adds:

"If the working classes everywhere were masters of their destinies it is beyond doubt that the president's program would have completely triumphed at the peace conference and Belgium would have obtained complete reparation for the losses she suffered."

President Wilson began the second day of his visit to Belgium by motor to Charleroi with King Albert. The king expected to show the American executives the devastation wrought by the Germans in the mines at Charleroi and supply him with documentary information of the wholesale and systematic destruction practised by the Germans.

A luncheon at the American legation, the appearance of the president before the Belgian chamber of deputies, and his reception by Cardinal Mercier at Malines, were a few of the features on today's program.

SOCIALISTS TO FIGHT NEW BLUE SKY BILL

Madison, June 19.—The Coo amendment to the present Blue Sky law was explained to the assembly judiciary committee Wednesday afternoon and will be recommended by that committee for passage.

Some objections were offered to the bill by Assemblyman Ehlman, Milwaukee socialist, who contended that the present law was strong enough. His attitude is taken to mean that the socialists in the legislature will oppose the measure which is aimed to "put teeth" in the law.

Assemblyman Coo, in answering Ehlman, created somewhat of a sensation in the committee when he declared that the law on the statutes is present means practically nothing, that although the railroad commission is authorized to administer the law it in reality has no power and that what good it has accomplished has been largely through bluff instead of actual power.

Mr. Coo said he wanted no camouflage in the new bill, that it was aimed at the wildcat oil and gas companies and mining companies which are being organized in different states and come to Wisconsin to sell their practically worthless stocks to unsuspecting Wisconsin people.

SOLDIER LAND BILL ENGROSSED IN HOUSE

Madison, June 19.—A measure intended to make it easy for soldiers to purchase land and giving them 40 years in which to repay the state for the land has been engrossed in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature. The bill is authored by Assemblyman George H. Fletcher, La Crosse.

The measure carries a biennial appropriation of $1,000,000 with which to purchase lands to put soldiers on farms in Wisconsin.

In order to aid and provide for the returned soldiers and sailors who have been honorably discharged the board may acquire agricultural lands suitable for colonization, together with any water rights and rights of way, and convey such land to discharged soldiers and sailors and their dependents.

The land settlement board is given authority to set aside certain areas of land for town site purposes; the board is directed to advertise the lands for sale; may sell the lands to soldiers; may prepare all or any part of land for drainage or cultivation; may furnish the seeds, plows, fences and erect buildings and other improvements necessary. The board may also make loans to settlers on the security of stock and farm implements.

Every purchaser must be an actual resident upon such land within six months after date of his contract. The contract of sale to soldiers shall provide that the land shall be paid in amortizing plans over a period of 40 years and bearing 5 percent interest computation as to payment, being these used by the federal land bank.

Every purchaser must be an actual resident upon such land within six months after date of his contract. News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

This picture of Anita Stewart just arrived in our mail from the coast and because the beautiful young star looks so very happy and alive, we simply had to let you see it too. It is not a picture from her latest screen drama. No, indeed, she has not gone into the wild western stuff just yet. The boy Scouts are the reason for her western garb. When the Boy Scouts undertook their huge membership drive Miss Stewart quit the studio for several days to aid in the drive and she worked so ardently for their cause that they soon began calling her "Joan of Arc."

Miss Stewart, we want to confess, is one of our favorites, and we liked especially her last picture, "Midnight Romance." It surely seems good to see her back again after her prolonged absence. "Midnight Romance" is the second picture she has made since her return to the cinema world.

ANOTHER O. HENRY STORY
Wallace Reid's new picture, "You're Fired," which was just released, is an adaptation of O. Henry's story, entitled "The Halberdier of the Little Rhine." The hero of the picture, a young man who, since he belongs to the idle rich class, has never worked in his life, undertakes to earn his living for three months in order to prove to his father-in-law to be that he is a worthy husband for the daughter.

Wanda Hawley is Mr. Reid's leading woman. Others in the cast are Lillian Mason, Theodore Roberts, Henry Woodward and Raymond Hutton. The scenario was written by Edith Kennedy and James Cruze directed.

GOSPEL
Tony Tincher will impersonate a society debutante in her next movie. Her last was "Rowdy Ann."

Biddle Polo's company is assembled in New York ready to sail for London, where they are to start work on a serial. Scenes will also be made in France.

Cleo Madison is now appearing on the stage in a vaudeville sketch titled, "The Broadway Saint."

George Bunny, brother of the famed John, will appear with Montague Love in "The Broadway Saint."

VERSATILITY
Lyle Williams plays four roles in "A Rogue's Romance."

Three are those of crooks. The fourth, a detective who rounds up the three crooks.

SIMPLICITY ITSELF
"All you have to know to be a serial star," says the fighter, James J. Corbett, who is making "The Midnight Hour," his boxing, swimming, auto driving, safe cracking, pole vaulting, engineering and steeple chasing.

Mrs. Abbie Rowth and children of Beloit spent Saturday evening with her sister, Mrs. R. L. Earle, returning Sunday morning.

He hopes also to secure the chair of literary criticism in a short time. Mr. Van Cleave has done some excellent work for the proprietors and readers of that great newspaper much satisfaction.

On their return Mr. Snyder was somewhat surprised to find that preparations were all made to celebrate his 57th birthday. The wedding anniversary of his son, Raymond, was also celebrated at the same time. Saturday was the real anniversary of both important events, but owing to the fact that it was such a busy time, and some of the children were unable to be present, it was decided to have the family gathering Sunday. A dinner had been prepared, and the daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Andrew, came during their absence, and when they returned the table was spread with many good things, among which was the birthday cake.

Children's day exercises will be held at the Christian church Sunday evening.

Pieces of Eight

Being the authentic narrative of a treasure hunt in the Bahamas Islands in the year 1908—now first given to the public.

By RICHARD LE GALLIENNE.

Copyright by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"It's called —" "Cay nowdays," he answered, "but it used to be called Short Shift island."

"Short Shift island?" I cried in spite of myself, immediately annoyed at my lack of presence of mind.

"Certainly," he rejoined, looking a little surprised but evidently without suspicion. He was too simple and too taken up with his shell.

"It is such an odd name," I said, trying to recover myself.

"Yes! those old pirate chaps certainly did think up some of the rummiest names."

"One of the pirate haunts, was it?" I queried with assumed indifference.

"Supposed to be. But one hears that of every other cay in the Bahamas. I take no stock in such yarns. My shells are all the treasure I expect to find."

"What did you call that shell?" I asked.

He told me the name, but I forgot it immediately. Of course I had asked it only for the sake of learning more precisely about Short Shift island. He told me innocently enough just where it lay.

"Are you going after it?" he laughed.

"Oh! well," I replied, "I am going on a duck-shooting trip to Andros before long, and I thought I might drop around to your cay and pick a few of them up for you."

"It would be mighty kind of you, but they're not easy to find. I'll tell you exactly —" He went off, dear fellow, into the minutest description of the habits of —, while all the time I was eager to rush off to Charlie Webster and John Saunders and shout into their ears—as later I did at the first possible moment that evening: "I've found our missing cay! Short Shift island is —" (I mentioned the name of a cay, which, in the case of "Dead Man's Shoes," I am unable to divulge.)

"Maybe!" said Charlie. "maybe! We can try it. But," he added, "did you find out anything about Tobias?"

CHAPTER II.

In Which I Am Afforded Glimpses into Futurity—Possibly Useful.

Two or three evenings before we were due to sail, at one of our snuggery conclaves, I put the question whether anyone had ever tried the diving rod for treasure in the islands. Old John nodded and said he knew the man I wanted, a half-crazy old negro back there in Grant's Town—the negro quarter spreading out into the brush behind the ridge on which the town of Nassau proper is built.

"He calls himself a 'king,'" he added, "and the natives do, I believe, regard him as the head of a certain tribe. The lads call him 'Old King Coffee'—a memory I suppose of the Ashantee war. Anyone will tell you where he lives. He has a name as a preacher—among the Holy Jumpers!—but he's getting too old to do much preaching nowadays. Go and see him for fun anyway."

So next morning I went. I had hardly been prepared for the plunge into "Darkest Africa" which I found myself taking, as, leaving Government house behind, perched on the crest of its white ridge, I walked a few yards inland and entered a region which, for all its green palms, made a similar sudden impression of pervading blackness on the mind which one gets on suddenly entering a coal-mining district after traveling through fields and meadows.

There were far more blacks than whites down on Bay street, but here there were very few blacks on every side.

The roads ran in every direction, and along them everywhere were figures of black women shuffling with burdens on their heads, or groups of girls, audaciously merry, most of them bonny, here and there almost a beauty. There were churches and dance halls and saloons—all radiating, so to say, a prosperous blackness.

At first the effect of the whole scene was a little sinister, even a little frightening. The strangeness of African jungle, was here, and one was a white man in it all alone among grinning savage faces. But for the figures about one being clothed, the illusion had been complete; but for that and the kind-hearted salutations from comely white-turbaned mammoes which soon sprang up about me, and the groups of eldsh children that laughingly blocked one's progress with requests—not in any weird African dialect but in excellent English—for "a copper, please."

This request was not above the maidenly dignity of quite big and buxom lassies. One of these, a really superb young creature, asked for "a copper, please," but with a saucy coquet's beffing her adolescence.

"I'll give you one if you'll tell me where the 'king' lives," said I.

"Ole King Coffee?" she asked, and then fell into a very agony of negro laughter. Recovering, she put her finger to her lips, suggesting silence, and said:

"Come along, I'll show you!"

And walking by my side, lithe as a young animal, she had soon brought me to a cabin much like the rest, though perhaps a little poorer looking.

"Shh! There he is!" and she shook all over again with suppressed giggles. I gave her a sixpence and told her to be a good girl. Then I advanced up a little strip of garden to where I had caught a glimpse of a venerable white-haired negro seated at the window, as if for exhibition, with a great open book in his hands. This he appeared to be reading with great solemnity, through enormous goggles, though I thought I caught a side-glance of his eye, as though he had taken a swift reconnoitering glance in my direction—a glance which apparently had but deepened his attention and increased the dignity of his demeanor. Remembering that he was not merely royal but pious also, I made my salutation at once courtier-like and sanctimonious.

"Good day to your majesty," I said; "God's good, God looks after his servants."

"De Lord is merciful," he answered gravely; "God takes care of his children. Be seated, sar, and please excuse my not rising; my rheumatism is a sore affliction to me."

I was not long in getting to the subject of my visit. The old man listened to me with great composure, but with a marked accession of mysterious importance in his manner.

"It's true, sar," he said, when I had finished, "I could find it for you. I could find it for you, sure enough; and I'm de only man in all de islands dat could. But I should have to go wid you, and it's de Lord's will to keep me here in dis chair wid my rheumatism. De rods has turned in dese old hands many a time, and I have faith in de Lord dey would turn again—yes. I'd find it for you; sure enough. I'd find it if any man could—and it was de Lord's will. But mebbe I can see it for you widout moving from dis chair."

"Do you mean, brother, that the Lord has given you second sight?"

"Dat am it! Glory to his name, hal-luh-jah!" he answered. "I look in a glass ball—so; and if de spirit helps me I can see clear as a picture far under de ground—far, far away over de sea. It's de Lord's truth, sar—blessed be his name!"

I asked him whether he would look into his crystal for me. With a burst of profanity, as unexpected as it was vivid, he cursed "dem boys" that had stolen from him a priceless crystal which once had belonged to his old royal mother, who, before him, had had the same gift of the spirit. But, he added—turning to a table by his side, and lifting from it a large curiously decorated decanter of considerable capacity, though at present void of contents—that he had found that gazing into the large glass ball of his stopper produced almost equally good results at times.

First he asked me to be kind enough to shut the door.

We had to be very quiet, he declared; the spirit could work only in deep silence. And he asked me to be kind enough to close my eyes. Then I heard his voice muttering, in a strange tongue, a queer dark gobbling kind of words, which may have been ancient African spell-words, or sheer gibberish such as magicians in all times and places have employed to mystify their consultants.

I looked at him through the corner of my eye—as doubtless he had anticipated, for he was glaring with an air of inspired abstraction into the ball of the decanter stopper. So we sat stent for I suppose some ten minutes. Then I heard him give another deep sigh. Opening my eyes I saw him slowly shaking his head.

"De spirits don't seem communicable dis afternoon," he muttered lifting the decanter slightly on one side and observing it drearly.

"Do you think, your majesty," I asked with as serious a face as I could assume, "the spirits might work better—if the decanter were to be filled?"

"Mebbe, sar; mebbe. Spirits is curious things; dey need inspiration sometimes, just like ourselves."

"What kind of inspiration do you think gets the best results, your majesty?"

"Well, sar, I can't say as dey is very particular, but I've noticed dey do seem powerful 'tached to just plain good old Jamaica rum."

"They shall have it," I said.

I had noticed that there was a saloon a few yards away, so before many more minutes had passed I had been there and come back again, and the decanter stood ruddily filled, ready for the resumption of our seance. But before we began I of course accepted the seer's invitation to join him and the spirits in a friendly libation.

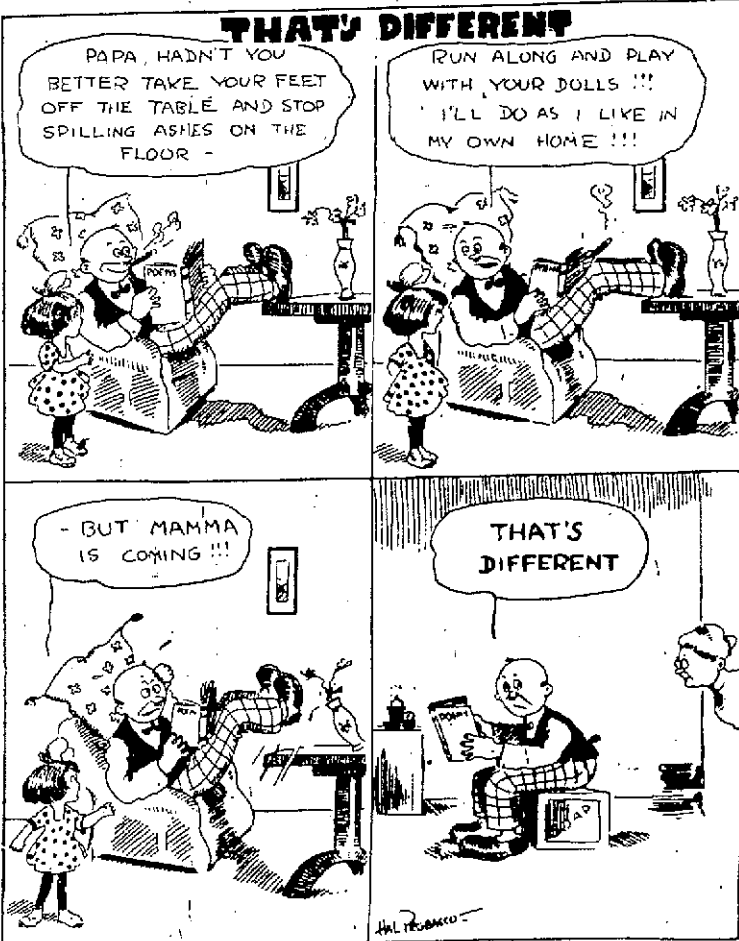

Then—I having closed my eyes—we began again, and it was astonishing with what rapidity the thick-coming pictures began to crowd upon that inner vision with which the Lord had endowed his faithful follower!

The villagers were touched, but not anxious. All girls cry at weddings. Then suddenly William Giles screwed up his face and broke into howls. Tears poured down his face and dripped off his whiskers.

"What's up?" "Hush, man," those nearest him urged. But Giles continued to howl, and at last burst out: "Let me be! I feel wuss than 'er about!"

A Chicago paint salesman bought the only remaining sleeping car space. An elderly lady next him in line in front of the ticket window burst into tears.

"I must have a berth in that train," she exclaimed; "it's a matter of life or death."

"What do you do up in Montreal, Mr. Warman?"

"I work for the Grand Trunk," said Warman.

"What kind of a job have you got—do you sell tickets, or handle baggage?"

"Oh, I've got a better job than either of those," said Mr. Warman. "You know the man who goes alongside of the train and taps the wheels with a hammer to see that everything's all right? Well, I help him listen."

SOLDIER BONUS BILL EFFECT ON STATE TAXES OUTLINED

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, June 19.—That the state tax to pay the bonuses for Wisconsin soldiers will increase the average tax in the state about 25 percent is the opinion of Senator Huber, author of the substitute bonus bill. The Huber measure, which has been favored in the senate by a vote of 18 to 8, provides for the raising of $15,000,000 by a state tax. He says that this is the only just way of appropriating the money and the only plan of collecting the amount necessary to pay each soldier, sailor, marine, and nurse who served, $10 a month for this time spent.

"To raise the sum required will add approximately 25 percent to our taxes for one year," says Senator Huber. "Where is the soul so mean that will not gladly come across? If any farmer, the law will reach them and compel their just share of a just debt."

Following are the complete provisions of the Huber bill:
There is appropriated the sum of $15,000,000, out of the state treasury for the purposes after specified to be raised by taxation and to be levied, collected and disbursed in the manner provided.

Out of the sum, so appropriated there shall be paid to each soldier, sailor, marine, and nurse, who served in the army or navy in the late war against Germany and Austria and who was a resident of Wisconsin at the time of their enlistment or induction into the service the sum of $10 for each month of such service and in case of death any such service to his dependents.

The governor, attorney general, adjutant general, and secretary of state are constituted a board to administer the funds and to provide for the listing of persons entitled to payment together with the amount due each and to issue warrants on the state treasury, who shall pay the same out of said fund.

It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to apportion the amount hereby appropriated to the counties of the state and certify the same to the county clerks at the same time and in the same manner that other taxes are certified.

If the sum hereby appropriated is insufficient to pay the persons as herein provided then there is appropriated out of the state treasury out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated, a sum sufficient to make up any such deficiency which shall be paid to the persons entitled thereto. If the sum in hereby appropriated shall exceed the amount necessary to make payments provided for herein then the balance shall revert to the general funds of the state.

NEW PRIMARY BILL OFFERED BY CHILSEN

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, June 19.—A new substitute primary election bill will be offered in the lower house of the legislature, Thursday by Assemblyman Chilsen, Merrill. It was this bill which was subjected to a conference of the republican state committee and members of the legislature Tuesday evening.

The bill provides for a convention system to nominate candidates for state offices and to formulate the platform. It is understood that the measure has the approval of Gov. E. L. Phillips who had urged such a reform during the past six years. Attached to the bill is a referendum to the people at the November election in 1920.

The new Chilsen bill provides that a state convention shall be held by each political party between May 15 and June 1 in each year in which a regular election for state officers is held. Such conventions shall be composed of one delegate from each county having a population of less than 250,000 and one from each county having a population of 250,000 or more, one delegate from each assembly for each full 500 votes and major fraction thereof for the party candidate for governor at the last preceding general election.

Yanks Give York, the Hero, the "Raz," But Are Sorry Later

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
Pittsburg, June 19.—Sergeant Alvin C. York, the greatest hero in the war, was "razberried" by other men in his division when he brought in his 132 captive Germans, which he had taken single handed, were told here today that they were in York's unit.

The Tennessee and his prisoners ran into the kitchen police first.

"Say, Sarge, ain't you afraid them Heinies will get away?" was the first shot directed at York by the hecklers.

"Nope, reckon not," was the reply. "How come? They's a posset of wessels there. Might run off an leave you."

"They did try to do that an' 14 of them got killed or they'd be more."

"Yeh, I guess you did bump off 14. You ketches 'em all yourself. I suppose?" put in a back York.

"Wow, Say, Jerry, listen to this. This guk ketches all them Boches by himself. Great kid, eh?"

The laughing soldiers then clustered around York.

"Where's the kaiser?" asked one. "You ain't much good in bringing in all them common bums. Why'd you get a couple of good ones while you're at it?"

"You better git outta here," said another. "You'll catch hell for being A. W. O. L. That's no way to go about trying to get back to the rear with them prisoners. Where's their guards?"

York began to get mad.

"Say, give them something to eat, will you? An' I'll take them out of here."

And it wasn't until the next day that the tormenting doughboys learned that he had captured the 132 German soldiers single handed and alone taken them back to the bull pen.

Britisher Tells of War
Message He Got on Ship

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
London, June 19.—The decision of the American shipping board to use the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, the great German liner, in the South American trade recalls a story which was told by a British officer at a Mansion House dinner a few evenings ago. He was on board this vessel when she made her last trip to this country in July 1914. They were nearing Plymouth, the port of call, when the commander received a mysterious wireless message. "Herr Schmidt has the influenza," he could not understand and passed it on to the passengers, thinking it was intended for one of them. No one accepting it, the commander wirelessed the message to be repeated. Back came the words: "Herr Schmidt has the influenza."

Rendering reply, the commander went to his cabin and feverishly overhauled the private papers in his safe, and found a sealed envelope inscribed: "To be opened only on receipt of message." Herr Schmidt has the influenza. Inside he read: "We are at war with England, France and Russia. Secure ship's safety. Make for nearest neutral port."

The envelope had been, as he afterwards explained, in his safe for five years and he had made a decision. He turned the ship around and, to the dismay of his passengers, sailed back to New York.

MEXICO WAS ASKED TO GIVE PROTECTION TO AMERICANS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Washington, Wed. June 18.—Announcement was made today by the state department that American officials in Mexico had made strong representation to the Mexican government for the protection of Americans in the disturbed area. A dispatch received by the department from Puezar said that the city was quiet and that there was no evidence of ill feeling toward Americans.

Particulars of the action of the United States troops in crossing the border at Juarez to protect the lives of American citizens were published yesterday in the Mexico city newspapers without editorial comment. A resolution to interpellate President Carranza on the action of the American forces was said to have been received practically no support in the chamber of deputies.

A dispatch from Laredo said Gen. Rensido Garza, commanding officer at Nuevo Laredo, and his staff, made an official call yesterday on Col. Beaumont B. Buck, the new American commanding officer at Laredo.

Interest Shifts
El Paso, Tex., Wednesday, June 18.—Interest in Mexican developments on the border shifted today from the Juarez sector to the interior where Americans are at the mercy of Francisco Villa, except in the larger towns and cities, should Villa start a campaign of reprisal against Americans.

Telegraph lines are down south of Juarez, the railroad is blocked by two Juarez and Chihuahua city and wagon roads are dangerous, because of Villa's presence southwest of the Mexican town so that nothing can yet be learned of developments south of the international boundary. American mining companies having American employes in isolated camps have ordered their men to make their way to the border by way of Torreon.

Artist Gets Work Painting Throats

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
Topeka, Kan., June 19.—The arrival of the sanitary train of the 35th division here brought a reminder to Governor Henry J. Allen of the six weeks he spent with the train in the diptheria hospital in the Vosges Mountains while he was with the Red Cross. There was a fellow named Jones, said the governor, speaking to friends about the train, "who used to paint our throats every day. He would go about with a ticked-looking pot of iodine and a swab."

"Say ah," he would command us, as he pried open our mouth. "He would always greet the boys with the command 'ah.' The fellows, when they saw him with the iodine and the swab, always had things to say that didn't sound like 'ah.'"

"I said to him one day, after he had finished a job on my throat: 'Jones, you should be an artist.'"

"I am, Mr. Allen," he replied. "I'm a painter and paperhanger in Topeka."
